Preface

The twenty-sixth edition of Library of Congress Subject Headings (LCSH 26) contains subject headings created by catalogers and used in cataloging at the Library of Congress since 1898.

This edition contains headings established through December 2002. Responsibility for the maintenance of the data base is held by the staff of the Subject Headings Editorial Team under the direction of the editor, Ronald A. Goudreau. Barbara Barnes, Bonnie Briscoe, and Elizabeth Rinn edited headings in the data base.

The Cataloging Distribution Service (CDS) produced LCSH from records in the MARC21 subject authorities format. Authority and reference entries were generated from the MARC21 records, the entries sorted, and the data formatted. The resulting data file was used by a commercial printer for final processing.

Here are entered works on the food and drink regularly consumed by an individual or group of people. Works on the sum of the physiological processes involved in the assimilation and utilization of nutrients for proper body functioning and health are entered under Nutrition. The latter heading may be subdivided by place to indicate the nutritional status of a group of people in the place.
